A crowd of people is gathered, and a large yellow banner is held up in the center. The banner features the text "JOHN 3:16" in large, bold, brown letters. JOHN 3:16

A crowd of people is gathered, holding a large yellow sign with the text "JOHN 3:16" written in large, bold, red letters. The background is slightly blurred, showing the heads and shoulders of many people. The text of the Bible verse is overlaid on the image in white, semi-transparent font.

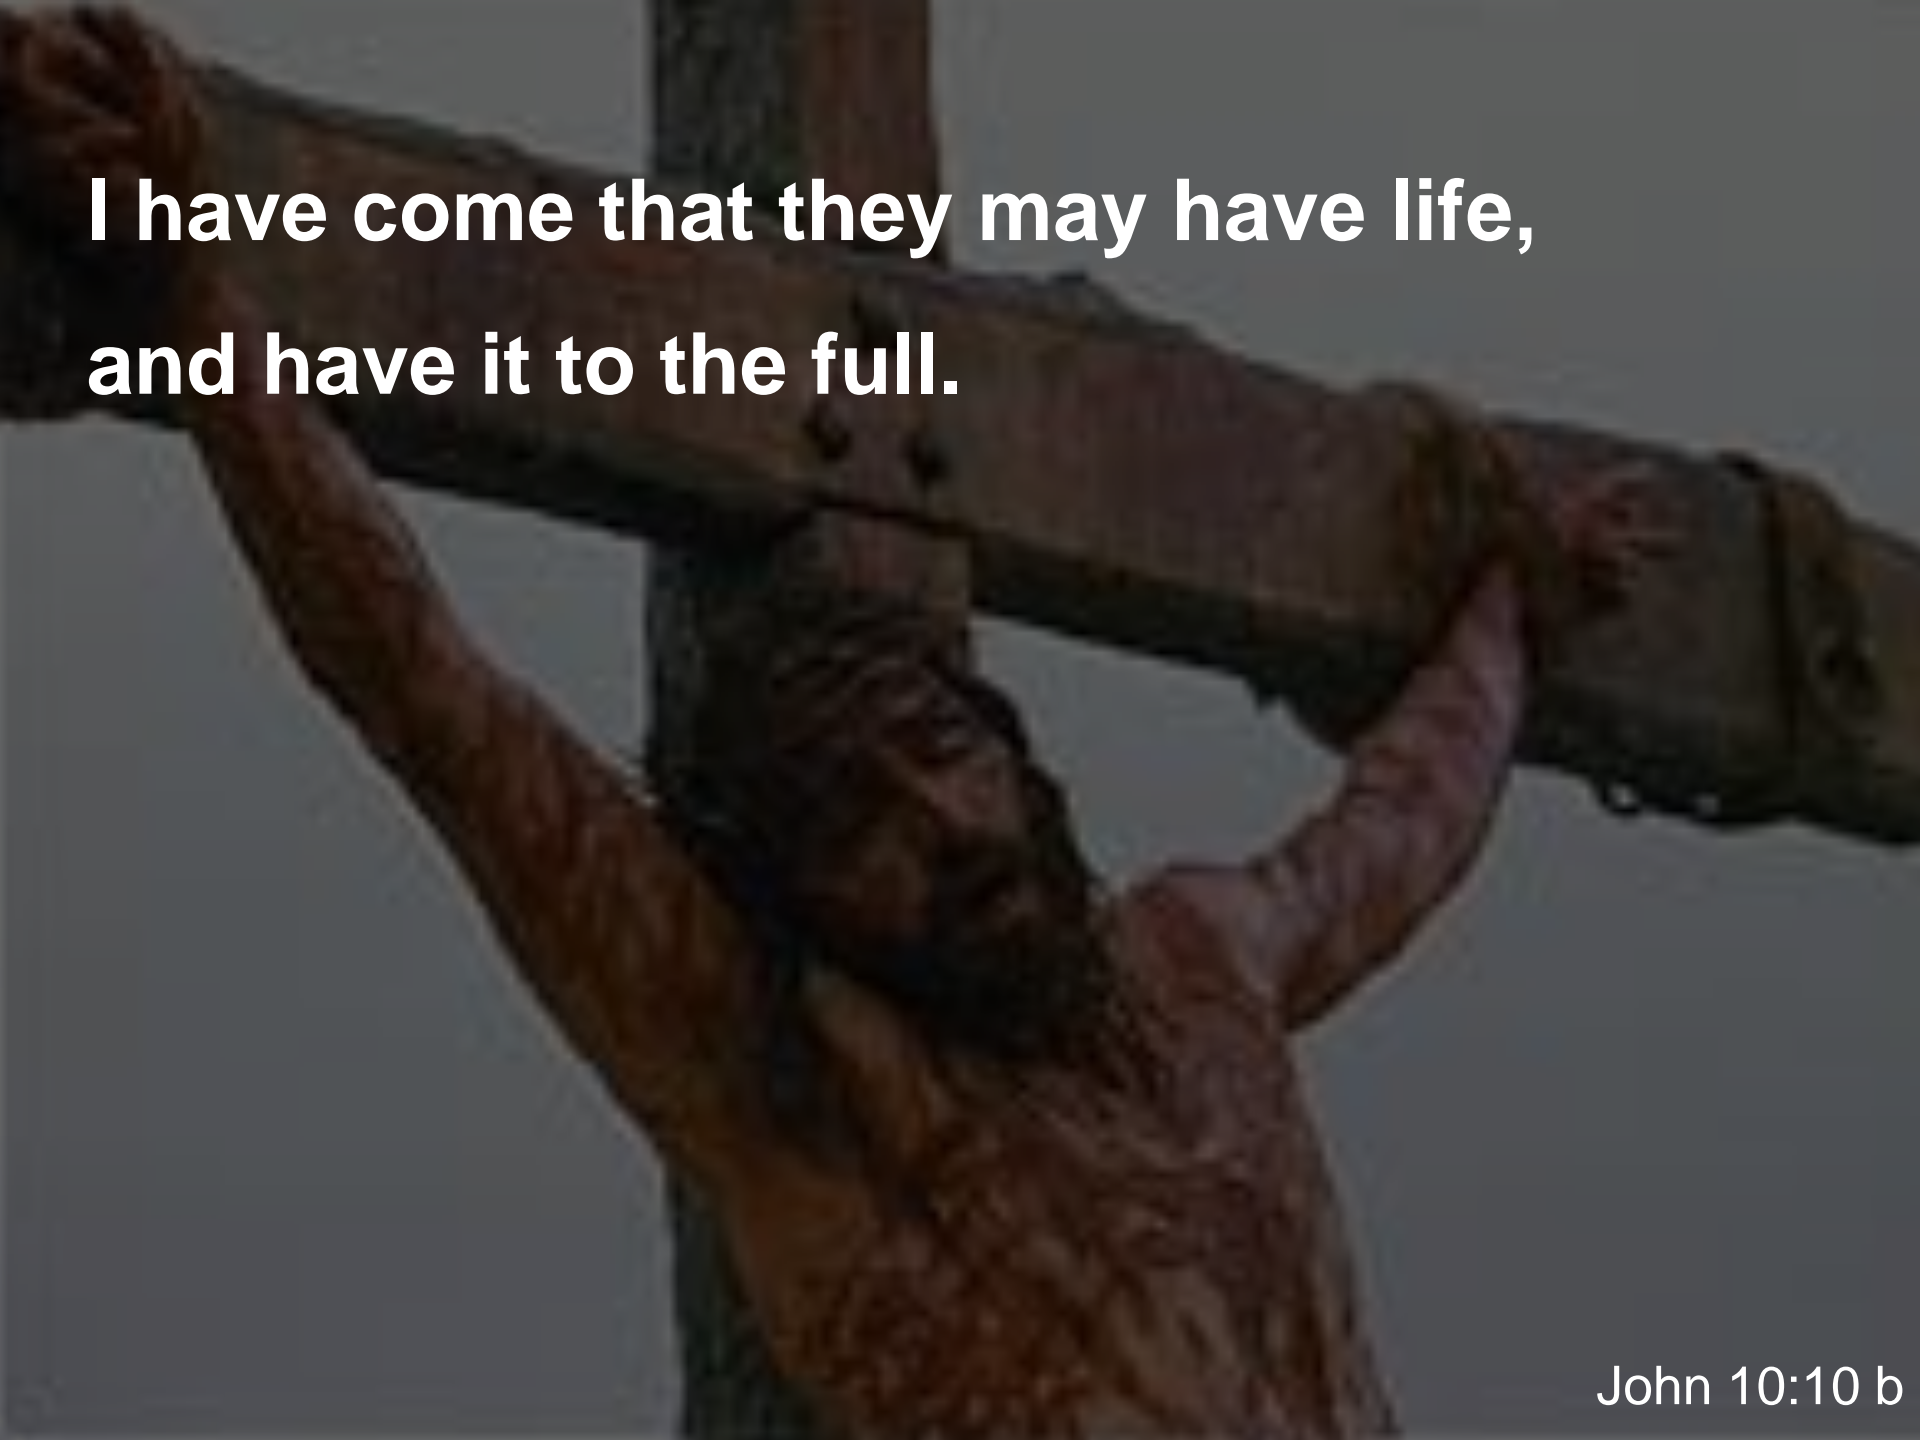

No one has ever gone into heaven except the one who came from heaven—the Son of Man. Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life. “For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life.”

A wooden cross is the central focus, with a figure on it. The background is dark and textured, possibly a wall or a large piece of fabric. The text is overlaid on the cross in a white, bold, sans-serif font.

A close-up photograph of a person's hands holding a large, rough-textured log against a wooden cross structure. The hands are positioned on either side of the log, gripping it firmly. The log is thick and has a deeply textured, bark-like surface. The background is a plain, light-colored wall. The overall scene suggests a moment of labor or preparation, possibly related to the construction or maintenance of the cross.

I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full.

John 10:10 b

Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant, and whoever wants to be first must be slave of all.

For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.

Remember the words I spoke to you: 'No servant is greater than his master.' If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also. If they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also. They will treat you this way because of my name, for they do not know the One who sent me.

Come, follow me, and I will make you fishers of men!
